Dear Courtney:

Thank you for all your help thus far. We are very satisfied with our VA and how our project is going. Jordan has been efficient and productive. Your service is quite beneficial to us. The attention to detail, statistical reporting and level of professionalism is excellent! As a result of your service, we have made contact with many banking and financial executives who are interested in opening up lines of communication with us. We are definitely content with the way things are turning out. We look forward to a long term business relationship with your company.

Sincerely,
